Monterrey Aerocluster

Cluster Aeroespacial de Nuevo León

Tecmaq will participate in Project Fokker (Chihuahua)

TEQMAC was invited to participate in the RFQ Project for the Honda Jet program.
See more >>

Piaga - Shell in Mexico offers training at the Airport North

On 21 January, the company PIAGA, dedicated to automotive refinishing, transportation equipment, aerospace, industrial maintenance, architectural finishes and maquiladora industry, convened a technical training AeroShell range of on-site workshop maintenance ASENSA aircraft
See more >>

Noranco joins Monterrey

Metalinspec achieved accreditation for CTOD fracture analysis elements thoughness and Leco

Metalinspec Laboratories, service provider approved by well-known companies in the aerospace industry such as GE, MTU or Honeywell, has managed to invest and implement new methods through fund government programs and tractor companies.
See more >>

Monterrey Aerocluster participates on Aeromart Montreal

With the participation of Monterrey Aerocluster in AEROMART

Diplomat program in composites

On June 5, 2015 began the Diplomat in Composite Materials on the Center for Research and Innovation in Aerospace Engineering (CIIIA) of the Autonomous University of Nuevo Leon (UANL) in collaboration with Monterrey Aerocluster AC.
See more >>

Grants available courses and Nadcap certifications

Aerocluster members

Monterrey Aerocluster is pleased to announce that its new associate, Noranco, has formally entered Mexico through the acquisition of aerospace machining, sheet metal, and special processing supplier, Procesos Térmicos.
See more >>

Ale Service Center of Mexico does FAA Certification

Service Center Ale Service Center in Monterrey just received the certification of "Certified Repair Station" by the FAA.
See more >>

MONTREAL 2015, closer to current market expectations and business opportunities that exist in the different branches of aerospace and which Mexico
See more >>

Collaboration agreement with FEMMPA

On May 21 the Monterrey Aerocluster signed a cooperation agreement with the Mexican Federation of Pilots and Aircraft Owners (FEMPPA). The event took place at the Center for Research and Innovation in Aerospace Engineering at the Autonomous University of Nuevo Leon.
See more >>

Launch of the Roadmap

On April 22, 2015 at 11:00 am took place the launch of the roadmap of the Aerospace Industry in Nuevo Leon in Monterrey.
See more >>

During 2015, the Monterrey Aerocluster aerospace development in the interests of its affiliates has managed subsidy from the Ministry of Finance to audit courses and NADCAP certification with the Performance Review Institute, and academia, and its certifying eQuaLearn house, the PRI Register.
See more >>

Licenses available 55% off CATIA v5 PLM

In response to the needs of the aerospace, Aerocluster Monterrey has achieved a 55% financial support from the Ministry of Economy.
See more >>